American & Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1836)

78 State Street, opposite Milky Street,

BOSTON.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Deeds, Assignments, and all papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into Antiquities of Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

This agency is not only the largest in New England but through it inventors have advantages for procuring Patents, of ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not unreasonably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is more successful in the Patent Office than the subscriber, and as success is the best proof of advantages and ability, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relating to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works and full accounts of inventions granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual agency fees, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in asserting therefore that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and I more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." "
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me FIFTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and skill in my behalf leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.

The Best Mechanical Paper in the World.

EIGHTEENTH YEAR.

Volume VIII. New Series.

A NEW VOLUME of this popular Journal commences on the first of January. It is published weekly, and every number contains sixteen pages of useful information, and from five to ten original engravings of new inventions and discoveries, all of which are prepared expressly for its columns.

To the Mechanic and Manufacturer,

No person engaged in any of the mechanical or manufacturing pursuits should think of "going without" the Scientific American. It costs but six cents per week; every number contains from six to ten engravings of new machines and inventions, which can not be found in any other publication.

To the Inventor

The Scientific American is indispensable to every inventor, as it not only contains illustrated descriptions of nearly all the best inventions as they come out but each number contains Official List of the Claims of all the Patents issued from the United States Patent Office during the week previous, thus giving a correct history of the progress of inventions in this country.

We are also receiving, every week, the best work published in England, France and Germany; thus placing in our possession all that is transpiring in mechanical science and art in these old countries. We shall continue to transfer to our columns copious extracts from these journals, of whatever we may deem of interest to our readers.

A pamphlet of instruction as to the best mode of obtaining Letters Patent, on new inventions, is published free on application.

Messrs. MUNN & Co. have acted as Patent Solicitors for more than seventeen years, in connection with the Patent Office of the United States, and they refer to 20,000 patentees for whom they have done business.

No charge is made for examining sketches and models of new inventions and for advising inventors how to bear patentability free of charge.

Chemists, Architects, Millwrights and Farmers,

The Scientific American will be found a most useful Journal to them. All the new discoveries in the science of chemistry are given in its columns, and the interests of the arch tect and carpenter are not overlooked, as all the new inventions and discoveries appertaining to these pursuits being published from week to week. Useful and practical information pertaining to the interests of millwrights and mill owners will be found in the Scientific American, which information they can not possibly obtain from any other source. Subjects in which farmers are interested will be found discussed in the Scientific American; most of the improvements in agricultural implements being illustrated in its columns.

TERMS.

To mail subscribers Three Dollars a year, or One Dollar for four months. The volumes commence on the first of January and July. Specimen copies will be sent gratis to any part of the country.

Western and Canadian money or Post-office stamps taken at par for subscriptions. Canadian subscribers will please remit twenty-five cents extra on each year's subscription to prepay postage.

WARREN'S

COUGH BALSAM

Has been found, by experiment, to be the Best Remedy for the various Diseases of the Lungs and Throat, such as

Diphtheria,

Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Croup, Influenza, Pleurisy, Pneumonia or Inflammation of the Lungs, and Whooping Cough.

IN these Complaints this Medicine has NO SUPERIOR; and while thus effectual, it is perfectly SAFE to administer to persons of all ages.

At all times of the year this Balsam is found useful, especially in the Autumn, Winter and Spring; and many Colds and Coughs, which, if neglected, might prove fatal, may be CURED at once by a few doses of this invaluable remedy.

This Cough Balsam possesses the two-fold advantage of being at once salutary and agreeable and invariably a preventive of all the diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Bronchia.

In DIPHTHERIA this Balsam has proved itself unexpectedly efficacious. When given at the first onset of the Pestilence, it checks it at once; and in many cases, is believed by those who have used it, to have saved their lives.

In ASTHMA, however violent and distressing, this Balsam gives prompt relief.

In BRONCHITIS and PNEUMONIA it relieves the irritation, loosens the Cough, and promotes a favorable expectoration.

In CROUP its powers are almost magical. This insidious disease, coming literally "like a thief in the night," may be speedily and effectually arrested by a few timely doses of this Balsam.

In WHOOPING COUGH it moderates the paroxysms, prevents the distressing vomiting sometimes attendant, and dispatches the disease in due course.

Every family should keep it in the house, and thus avoid the dangerous delay occasioned by sending out for the medicine when needed for immediate use.

The best recommendation for a good medicine is found in its use. If the following certificate from one who has used it, does not give you confidence in it, try one bottle for yourself, and you will be convinced. It will cost you but twenty-five cents, and may save you as many dollars in time and doctors' bills.

Letter from Col. Roberts.

FRIEND WARREN.—Allow me to thank you for the bountiful supply of Cough Balsam received by me from you, through Lieut. Boynton. Many a soldier in my command, as well as officer, has experienced the beneficial effects of the same. We all pronounce the article sound—so does Dr. Gale Surgeon, Dr. Lyman, of Boston, to whom I presented a bottle.

War & Courier.

Army Correspondence of Whig & Courier.

From the 26th Maine

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 17, 1863

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

I believe the promise was given that I would occasionally report to you the condition of the 26th Regiment, but no communication has been sent, that I know of, since we left Fortress Monroe.

Our history, thus far, has not been marked by any wonderful achievements, and yet we have been moving,—the present being our seventh encampment. We have made a journey by land and by water of more than 2000 miles, and have had opportunities of witnessing the awful effects of war on no limited scale. This city, which was the Capital of the great State of Louisiana, presents a view which is heart sickening. Desolate streets, deserted homes, destruction of property, public and private,—the ruin of the "burnt district," including nearly one third of the city, are all before our eyes, and attest the desolation and havoc which war carries with it. The city was bombarded on the 28th of May last, when the sad work of destruction was summarily performed. In any event, it is hardly possible that former prosperity can ever be witnessed here. The United States buildings must have cost an immense sum. Now they are occupied by troops and horses. The State House,—recently burned, accidentally, as most believe,—was a beautiful and magnificent edifice, and furnished on a most expensive scale. The Penitentiary is the largest building of the kind I ever saw. At the time of the bombardment, there were in it more than three hundred convicts, most of whom, I understand, are in the rebel army.

There are nearly thirty thousand men here, a majority of whom are from New England.

As a regiment, we have lost a smaller number than most others. About fifteen have died at different places. The 22d has lost about thirty-five. The measles are spreading in some of our companies. There are, at present, about twenty cases. [None serious we believe.]

After an anxious waiting, we were permitted to hear that the Paymasters had come to the city. The boys, in most cases, were out of funds, and many of the officers had found it needful to borrow, but who expected that the holy Sabbath would be appropriated to such a purpose in the 26th Maine Regiment nothing was thought of—nothing was spoken of by most—but money, on the second Sabbath of February, 1863. Are we far out of the way, when we predict that final success will never crown our efforts, while the high claims of Jehovah, respecting the observance of holy time are so generally set at nought? Most of those who control military affairs seem to forget that there is anything in the Bible, or anything in history which tells us that God will honor those who honor him, and despise those who lightly esteem Him.

We have one hundred and fifty cases of sickness, but only a few are dangerously ill.

Our Regiment has sent home, the past week, about twenty thousand dollars. The burdens, which rest upon hundreds of families, will be relieved by this timely aid. And many of these young men have sent their money to friends who will hold it in readiness for them, on their return home. Home now has charms for many that it never had before. Few indeed, of all our number, have been heard to express a willingness to take up their abode in this Sunny South.

CHAPLAIN MAINE 26TH.

THE GALLANT REPTILES OF RANGE FROM NEW MEXICO. We take the following proceedings of the New Mexican Legislature from the "New Mexican" newspaper of Jan. 30th, published at Santa Fe. The compliment to General Carleton is well deserved:

Whereas, During the late Texan invasion, while the rebel hordes threatened our Territory, the gallant soldiers of California and of our sister Territory, Colorado, came to our assistance, and uniting with our patriotic and true-hearted sons, drove the invaders from the land, and

Whereas, We deem it an act of gratitude that we should express to them our thanks for having by forced marches, in an almost unprecedented space of time, reached New Mexico, and periled their lives in defence of our homes and firesides, therefore be it

Resolved by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of New Mexico, That we tender our thanks, and the thanks of the people of New Mexico, to the brave Californians and Colorado troops, for their timely aid and assistance in driving the traitors and rebels from our soil.

Resolved, That we regard the rapid march of Brigadier General James H. Carleton, with the Colt cornus troops, across the Great Desert, as one of the most remarkable achievements of the age. That we have the utmost confidence in the military capacity and generalship of Brigadier General Carleton.

And we recommend, and respectfully ask of the President of the United States, his appointment as Major General of Volunteers.

Resolved, That His Excellency, the Acting Governor, is hereby requested to forward a copy of the foregoing resolutions to His Excellency the President of the United States, and to the Governors of California and Colorado.

Considerable miscellaneous business of little moment was transacted, and the House adjourned.

At a religious meeting, a lady persevered in standing on a bench, and thus intercepted the view of others, though repeatedly requested to sit down. A reverend old gentleman at last rose, and said, gravely, "I think if the lady knew that she had a large hole in each of her stockings, she would not exhibit them in this way." This had the desired effect—she immediately sank down on her seat. A young minister standing by, blushed to his temples and said, "Oh, brother, how could you say what was not a fact?" "Not a fact!" repeated the old gentleman; "if she had not a large hole in each of her stockings, I should like to know how she gets them on."

A COOL FELLOW. The New Haven (Ct.) Register says that George Bromley, of Preston, was sitting on the track of the New London road, when the train came along and passed him both over head into the bushes. The train stopped, and backed to pick up the body, when Bromley coolly informed the conductor, as he brushed the dirt from his coat sleeve, that if he "had damaged the engine any, he was ready to settle for it!" and walked off home.

The "democrats" are ready to promise anything if the people will only entrust them with power. A card issued yesterday to our readers, says if they will only elect the democratic candidate for Mayor, every grievance, real or fancied, of the citizens shall at once be remedied. Capitalists shall no longer domineer; one of their property from taxation—the dear policeman of the city shall always be found exactly where they may be needed, at all hours of the day and night, and shall also be constantly employed in detecting and running after rogues both in the city and out—the School Committee shall be ubiquitous and all-wise; so as to prevent every improper act of every teacher and also every rascal of every pupil—and finally all the rights of every citizen, "secesh or whatever" wherever he may be, are to be absolutely and always guarded. All offenders are to be brought to speedy punishment, and no wrong measure whatever instituted, either by mistake or otherwise.

Now our neighbor Fessenden is an able gentleman, who has been well thought of by our citizens—barring his politics—and a man who has good financiering and business capacities; but his party backers are promising rather big things for him. He may feel comparatively easy, however—for he will not probably be called upon to perform any of them. The democratic party has always been liberal of its promises of retrenchment and reform when out of power; but we never supposed to see any extra degree either of honesty, economy or efficiency, in any department of City, State or National Government, when they were in power. The people will not be likely to trust them now, on their own endorsement.

THE TRUE INDEPENDENCE CONFLICT. The Louisville Courier, a paper in the interest of the Border State rebels, said, not long ago, in giving its opinions on the war:

"This has been called a fratricidal war by some, by others an irrepressible war between freedom and slavery. We respectfully take issue with the authors of both of these ideas. We accept the brothers of the Yankees, and the slavery question is merely a pretext, not the cause of the war. The irrepressible conflict has fundamentally in the hereditary hostility and the sacred antipathy, the eternal antagonism between the races engaged. The Norman invaded subject broke the vulgar familiarity of and hated Yankee, while the latter is continually devising some plan to bring down his aristocratic neighbor to his own detested level. That was the conflict waged in the old United States. So long as Democratic doughfaces were to be bought, and Cobrans cowards to be frightened, so long was the Union tolerable to Southern men; but when, owing to divisions in our ranks, the Yankee hireling placed one of their own spawn over us, political connection became unendurable, and separation necessary to preserve our self respect."

Such talk as this has become very common at the South. The ignorance which has been one of the marked characteristics of Southern society has given so far that the Southerners no longer know who were their own friends—and are apparently incapable of understanding the true nature of the war into which they recklessly plunged. No thing could be more foolish than this talk about a "war of races," "sacred animosity," "eternal antagonism." It is no war of races. The worst Southern rebels are renegade Yankees. It is a war not of race, but of two adverse conditions of society. It is a conflict of systems, a struggle of ideas. It is a war natural, necessary, inevitable, not on account of any hereditary hostility of race, but because of the irreconcilable diversity of social organization and of moral ideas. Light and darkness cannot coexist. Liberty and slavery can no dwell side by side in peace. The honest man and the traitor will never agree. The man who believes that all men are created equal, and the man who believes and acts on his belief that some men do not possess the fundamental rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, cannot live in accord under one government. The war we are engaged in is no race war. It is the old struggle between the defenders of right and the despotic defenders of privilege. The cause of the war lies in the very depths of human nature. The South has tampered with its consciousness long that it has lost the power of distinguishing between good and evil. It has come to hate what we of the free States love, and to love what we hate.

So also over the North is engaged in supporting the essential principles of government and of law. It has experienced the benefits of free institutions in fact as well as theory, and is ready to vote them, and is now fighting in support of those principles without which democratic and free institutions are impossible.

THE ABSENCE IN OUR STORES becomes thus far has been glorious for the Union cause. In our paper of Thursday we gave a list of all the town meetings thus heard from, which voted as 81 Republican and Union tickets, to 11 democratic and anti-war. We now give all we have since heard from, on a new side:

Republican and Union Towns—Minot, Hartland, St. Albans, Palmyra, Mechanic, Pittston, Farmington, Wilton, Salem, Stamford, Bethel, Fryeburg, Fayette, New Gloucester, Phippsburg, Sumner, Wayne, Fairfield, Sherman, Trenton, Southboro, Penobscot, Medway, Holliston, Sidney, Hallowell, Talbot, Knox—total—37.

Democratic Towns—Hampden, Franklin, Scarborough, Harrison, Bridgton, Cumberland, Durham, Bangor, Waldoboro, Otisfield, Deer Isle—11.

Whole number thus far—Republican and Union, 56 Democratic 22.

It appears that the capture of the Queen of the West was accomplished by her being run ashore by the treasherous pilot within 300 yards of a rebel battery and in such a position that she could not bring a gun to bear. She soon got a shot through her steam chest, and the crew abandoned her except a few who were taken prisoners.

THE COPPERHEAD SCHISM. The Hartford Press publishes an extract from a letter written by a distinguished officer of the regular army, now in Virginia, whose name would be a sufficient guarantee for his statements. In adverting to the new "Hartford Convention," the writer says:

I am not surprised, for it had been fully determined by the order of the Knights of the Golden Circle throughout the entire North. They received this one direct from Richmond via the overland route to Indiana. I was informed of this in Washington some days previous. The Administration was fully advised of it by members of that order, who had joined for the purpose of learning their plans. Connecticut was selected because of its willing tools, Easton and Seymour, and the nearness of the election. A new, bold Southern platform was to try its effect in Connecticut. If it failed (as it must), Seymour and Easton may go to the rope—and be disowned. If it win (as it cannot), then the same platform with an additional plank, that to "resist the collection of taxes," will be adopted throughout.

☞ The Machias Republican says the small pox is now prevailing considerably in the town of Cherryfield. Eighteen or twenty cases are reported.

See that Your Name is on Your Ward List.

Voters should remember that according to the new law, no name can be entered on the day of election. The Aldermen will be in session today, Saturday, from 9 till 1 and from 2 till 6 o'clock, for the purpose of entering new names or changing from one ward to another. This is the last chance.

THE MEETING THIS EVENING. Let there be a rousing meeting at Norombega, this evening, of the loyal people of the city, to cry for the Union in substance, to vote patriotic sentiments, and to prepare for the election on Monday.

☞ We understand that a report is abroad that Dr. Jones of this city intends removing to Orono to take the place of Dr. Aiken, recently deceased. We believe Dr. J. has been solicited to do so by many of his friends in that place, but has determined not to leave his practice in this city.

☞ The alarm of fire yesterday forenoon was caused by a slight burning on the roof of Geo Bulfinch's house on Dale Street, from sparks from a burning chimney.

POLICE COURT, March 6th. Benj B Blake, who was arrested by officer Wasker on charge of being concerned in the robbery of Wm. I. FORT ALEXANDER, Feb. 28th, 1863.

At a meeting of the members of Company D, 1st Maine Regiment Heavy Artillery, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, A traitorous sheet called the Bangor Democrat, has recently been started anew, in the city of Bangor, and copies of it sent to this company, (a Bangor company,) therefore

Resolved, That we denounce it as a paper unfit for circulation and disposal, and that while the Whig and Courier, next to a letter from our friends, is most welcome, nothing could insult our manhood so much as to have a copy of the Bangor Democrat directed to us, for we look upon that paper as doing more towards advancing treason than any one paper published in the South; we would therefore request our friends to discontinue sending any more of them to us.

☞ Wilton, Phillips and Farmington, in Farmington county, have elected Republican town officers by large majorities. Also Rumford, Bethel and Fryeburg, in Oxford county. In Belgrade, (a democratic town) the officers are divided between the parties, there having been no political contest.

☞ Paterson, which has frequently gone democratic, by 1,500 elects Republican town officers.

MORE UNION VICTORIES. We have accounts of Republican victories on Monday last in three more good Somerset towns—Hartland, St. Albans and Palmyra.

☞ Gold had a great tumble on Thursday, consequent probably, in some degree, upon the law just passed by Congress, designed to effect the speculation in that metal by taxing heavily the merely speculative operations. Prices of flour, sugar and other articles, felt the fall in gold to some extent.

☞ In the city of Gardiner, James Nash, Esq., was elected Mayor on Monday last, having 220 out of 240 votes. The whole city government is Republican.

☞ The city of Rockland elected the Republican municipal ticket on Monday last—Mayor Wiggin being elected by the glorious vote of 614, to 396 for Harrington, Democrat.

☞ Extensive ice cutting operations are going on near Gardiner. The Journal of that place says there are about 600 men engaged in cutting and packing the article in that vicinity—and that they can cut 1500 tons per day. It is estimates that 8,000 worth will be taken out in a few weeks if the weather remains favorable.—That's the rub, however. The ice will not long remain in a good condition.

☞ Gov. Coburn's reception last evening was a grand affair. We were not able to be present owing to press of business, and lack of good clothes.—Gardiner Journal.

You needn't speak of the former reason—and as to the latter, what editor could have gone if good clothes were indispensable?

A SEATING INCIDENT NOT BARGAINED FOR. The Gardiner Journal relates that Mr George Colburn and his wife, after enjoying a beautiful moonlight skate on Saturday evening, found a nice baby, not their own, upon their door-step last asleep. An accompanying note assured the finder that the baby was "as good as the next one." Mr C will probably desire the next one to take a different direction.

☞ Sch. John Perkins, of Winterport, Rush, at New York from Washington; D. C. reports Feb. 28th at 10, P. M., went ashore on Sandy Hook without a pilot, and was got off at high water Saturday morning without damage, after discharging part of her cargo.

☞ Hon John A. Poor is in town on a brief visit.

SHERMAN, March 4, 1863.

Messrs. Wheeler & Lynde.

We held our annual meeting last Monday and elected the following town officers

B H Owin, Town Clerk.

Thomas Ball, John Burnham and Levi C. Caldwell, Selectmen, Assessors and Overseers of the Poor.

All good and true Republicans, and all of the other town officers of any importance are of the same stamp. The copperheads had to cave in.

SHERMAN.

☞ Mr Smith's speech in reply to Mr. Kingsbury, was a failure. He attempted to be severely personal on Mr. K., and although he evidently had raked up every little fact of Mr. K's private and public life, yet he miserably failed. Mr Smith said he was opposed to furnishing another man, or giving another dollar for the state fair.—Augusta Journal.

[For the Whig & Courier.]

Union Meeting in Searsport.

A grand Union Meeting was held at Searsport Thursday evening, 5th inst. Charles Gordon, Esq., presided. Able and patriotic speeches were made by Hon A. G. Jewett, Rev Mr Cutter, and others of Belfast, and J. A. Matthews, Esq., of Searsport.

Resolutions were unanimously adopted supporting the Administration, sinking the partizan in the patriot, and enrolling ourselves in one great party of the Union, whose text and watchword are, and shall be, OUR COUNTRY, OUR WHOLE COUNTRY, AND NOTHING BUT OUR COUNTRY.

The Town Hall was densely crowded with ladies and gentlemen, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. Copperheadism is at a low ebb in Searsport.

Yours &c.

The Bangor Courier probably judges us by its own mode of doing business, when it charges that we forged the extract of Mr. Raymond's speech which we published. The Courier is a delectable sheet.—Argus.

The Argus gave no authority for its statement when first made—hence we held it responsible. Since then it has given the New York Express—Jim. Brooks's paper—as the origin of the report. To extinguish the Argus from forgery at first hands—but it must have known that the Express lied about it. That paper never does anything else. It is constitutionally impossible for Brooks to tell the truth.

FUNERAL OF CAPT. COWAN. Adjutant Larrabee, with a detachment of 65 men, leading the band of the 7th Regiment, attended the funeral of Capt. Cowan, at Biddeford, Wednesday.—They with other detachments in that vicinity, made an imposing military display, and the gallant dead was buried with due military and civic honors.—Argus.

CAUGHT AT LAST. The real genuine original sea serpent is said to have been caught on the east coast of South America. He was but hundred and fifty feet long, with a head and tail like a lizard, and it took six men to carry one of his ribs. That's the newspaper story.

The New Senate.

The new Senate of the Thirty-eighth Congress met at noon yesterday to act upon executive business. The nominations for majors and brigadier generals, and a large list of miscellaneous appointments, are to be acted upon, and the session may occupy the remainder of the week. The new Senate is composed as follows, those marked by a star being the new members:

Those sum up politically as follows: Union and Republican, 27; Democrats, 19; vacancies 2. The new men promise to be at least average merit in point of Senatorial talent and character. Among the able men who have retired are Ex-Governor Wright of Indiana, Preston King of New York, David Wilmot of Pennsylvania and Senator Wiley of Western Virginia.—Boston Journal.

The Mistake They Have Made.

In speaking of the grand outpourings of the people at patriotic public meetings in Ohio and Indiana, the New York Times says:

The Copperheads are beginning to realize how utterly futile it is to plot against a genuine vital instinct. Like fools, they have imagined that patriotism could be managed in the same fashion as partyism—that the people could be enlisted and enjoled out of their support of the Government very much as they have often been out of their support of this or that political party. Taking their cue from the extraordinary success of the Know Nothing lodges as a political agency a few years ago, they have conceived that they could make treason prevail by similar methods—that it was enough to establish a few such secret agencies as the Knight of the Golden Circle, and to surround a few presses, and to bring together a few of the old party demagogues and wire-pullers, to effect an actual revolution against the constituted authorities of the land. They have made no allowance for the difference between a mere party preference, which may spring entirely from secondary considerations, and may change as circumstances change, and that inborn, inbred, inexhaustible attachment which binds man to his country. They have fancied that the Constitution could be seceded from as easily as a party platform, and that the Stars and Stripes might be whisked out of mind as easily as last year's political transparency.

In fact, for a time they did seem to have it pretty much to themselves. They plotted, and intrigued, and juggled, and decoyed, without much concern on the part of the great loyal body of the people; and they won some elections. With this little success, they straightway ran wild. They began to talk high about revolution in the North—about resistance to the laws of Congress—about friendly Commissioners to the Confederacy—about State movements to force a peace!—They began to make heroes of discarded officers of the army, and to instigate the soldiers to revolt by the free circulation of incendiary prints. They began to invent the most flagitious methods of increasing the price of gold, and depreciating the credit of the Government. They began to agitate, without the slightest reserve, the expediency of propitiating the South by cutting off New England. Then began to assert, even in their most sober journals, that the John M Mason theory of "nullegiance due to the Federal Government" was the true doctrine; and to endorse, without qualification, the right of secession and all of the extremest dogmas of the Calhoun school. Of these manifestations their Legislatures have been full, their political conventions, their newspaper organs. They thought full surely their treason "was a ripening."

The army took the alarm first. The heroes of Donelson, and Shiloh, and Corinth, and Murfreesboro, put in wrath and buried Secret declamations against the miscreants who were seeking to undo all their mighty deeds and sacrifices. The people, whose patience was already strained, have quickly caught the same vehement spirit. They are showing, in a way not to be mistaken, that these traitorous works shall go no further—that the day a finger is lifted against the rightful authority of the National Government shall be a day of bloody reckoning. The allies of the rebellion will do well to look to it. We tell them they are mad if they persist in following out the track they have entered on.—This Northern people will not brook any such betrayal of the Republic.

THE UNION MEETING AT BELFAST, ME. We have received a note from Mr J. S. Bedlow, Superintendent of the Boston and Maine district of the American telegraph lines, which shows conclusively that the telegraph company were in no way responsible for the refusal to transmit the proceedings of the recent Union meeting at Belfast as stated by the Progressive Age, and copied into The Journal.—Boston Journal.

It was the reporter of the "Associated Press" as we understand it, who declined sending a despatch about the meeting when requested to do so. He has nothing to do with the Telegraph Company, nor they with him.

Preserve your Youth.

Is it not a duty to perpetuate physical comeliness by fostering health and strength? When we hear of a man retaining his mental and physical encowments at an extremely advanced age, we all admire the anomaly, and would gladly inherit his undecaying vitality. Whoever, then, aids the race to lengthen the period of substantial youth, by feeding and purifying the fountains of health, merits the respect and applause of the world, as a benefactor, and such is Mrs. S. A. Allen, who has done for the hair all that could be wished. Her World's Hair Restorer and Hair Dressing prevent the hair from falling out, and restore it to the color and gloss of youth, and they effect this by an alliance with the natural laws, and not in any spurious or fallacious manner. We are induced to notice these preparations from seeing so large a number of certificates from such reliable persons. We notice among them—Rev. E. V. Degen, Boston, Mass; Hon. H. Cornell, New York City; Mr. Jedrick Woods, Londonderry, Vt.; Rev. S. B. Gurney, Attleboro', Mass; Mrs. Clark, Cincinnati, Ohio; Rev. B. C. Smith, Pittsburg, N. Y.; Rev. B. P. Stone, D.D., Concord, N. H.; J. H. Eaton, LL.D., President Union University, Tenn.

The Nashville then moved up to the fleet and was soon a total wreck.

SOUTHERN COPPERHEAD NEWS We take the following from the New Orleans "Era."

Secretary of the Delta of Feb 15

The Secession Story about Indiana. Some time since a report was rife in this city that Indiana had seceded from the Union, and that the Governor was a prisoner Then we heard that the Governor of Indiana had been killed.

By the last arrival from the North, we get the origin of this ridiculous story It seems that after the battle of Murfreesboro, the rebel Gen. Bragg caused to be printed and widely circulated in the army, some articles of the Nashville Union in which was some presumably disparaging News Four States Seceded from the Government—Missouri, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky! This was followed by an article heralding the loss of these States. Of course the whole affair was a forgery, but the ingenious robbery of the South, a large proportion of which cannot read at all, could not detect it. The Buckeye was in Kentucky, bogus copies of the Louisville Journal were freely circulated among the rebels, filled with all kinds of matter to astound and discourage the rebels, and discourage the loyal This shows how much reliance can be placed in rebel news

THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC In speaking of the troops to some gentlemen who visited him last week, General Hooker remarked, with considerable pride "The Army of the Potomac is the best on this planet They are not cavalry upon horses, but knights. No general except in the great determination, and with heavy losses to both sides and resulted indecisively to our troops

A large part of the 8d Indiana, 19th Michigan, 23d Wisconsin and 85th Indiana, with most of their commissioned officers, were captured

Our artillery and cavalry were successfully withdrawn

The 12th Ohio was cut but returned without loss All quiet to day

The rebels have fallen back Their force was infantry and heavier artillery than ours.

Gen Gilbert's action in failing to reinforce Col Coburn is severely censured by the officers and men

BALTIMORE, 6th

The Petersburg Express contains the following about the capture of the Indianola

VICKSBURG, 25th ult

I have the honor to report, after a serious and hot engagement, the capture of the Federal iron clad steamer Indianola, Lieut Commanding Brown U S N, by Confederate steamer Queen of the West and Webb, forming the escort that was sent out by me for that purpose, under Major L Bent The prize is a good one damaged

Immense Emancipation Meeting in Liverpool

THE POLISH INSURRECTION GAINING.

PROBABLE FIGHT WITH A REBEL PIRATE.

HALIFAX 6th

The following is additional by the steamship Arabia

The Secretary of the Emancipation Society replies to the insinuations in the Times and says that no letter or telegram was received from Lord Brougham, imploring the Society not to present their address to Minister Adams

There was an imposing demonstration at the Amphitheatre in Liverpool, February 19th, in support of President Lincoln's emancipation policy.

The Liverpool Post says "a more immense meeting was never witnessed on any question on which public opinion was at all divided, and the hearty demonstrations of the immense concourse were all the more massive and valuable from the fact that there was nothing in the least degree sensational or ad captandum in the speeches"

Resolutions approving the President's course on slavery, and an address, to be presented through Mr Adams, were adopted The address tenders respectful sympathy in those measures which have denationalized slavery, and are intended to destroy it

A few malcontents created considerable uproar and confusion towards the close of the meeting

On the same evening, and for the same object a great meeting was held at Carlisle. The resolutions were carried with enthusiasm, almost unanimously. The conduct of the Lord Mayor of London, in feting Mason, was strongly reprobated.

Mr Buxton in a letter to the Times reiterates his detestation of slavery, but says he cannot endorse Mr Lincoln's emancipation scheme, as it contemplates insurrection and misery

The London Times gives further particulars of the Confederate loan. It says the contract had reached par, having been ratified by the Confederate House of Representatives, while the Senate's ratification was expected by the next mail The loan is for three millions sterling at 7 per cent, exchangeable against cotton at any time within 6 months after peace, the cotton to be delivered during the war in the interior and after peace at any port, at the rate of six pence for New Orleans middlings Islands Bonds not converted into cotton are redeemable at par during 20 years by half yearly drawings at the price at which the bonds were issued. has not transpired.

The Morning Herald says the above reports are rather premature.

The Times editorially quotes long extracts from the New York correspondence of the Morning Herald to show that even Union Americans give expression to much stronger views than any it has ever advocated

In the House of Commons, Feb 23th, Lord Palmerston introduced a resolution making provision for the Prince of Wales He explained that the Prince's income from Duchy of Cornwall, &c., was £60,000 sterling per annum and it was proposed to raise it to £100,000 with an additional £10,000 for the Princess of Wales The proposition passed unanimously

The Corporation of London voted £10,000 sterling as a present to the Princess Alexandria.

In the House of Lords on the 20th, the affairs of Poland were debated.

Earl Russell said the papers could not be produced at present, but he sketched the course of events, and condemned the Russian conscription measure as most unjust and imprudent. He said Austria had declared its intention to be strictly neutral, but Prussia has to a certain extent sided with Russia. The future course of England was a matter of serious deliberation.

In the House of Commons the same evening, Lord Palmerston said the only agreement between Russia and Prussia, that the Government knew of, was one by which the troops of one party should be allowed to pursue insurgents into the territory of the other

A French Cabinet Council had been held on Polish affairs, at which the Minister of Foreign Affairs was present, to write a despatch to Prussia, expressing great dissatisfaction of France at the intervention of Prussia in Poland

There are strong evidences of French sympathy with the Poles

The Polish insurgents have captured Konin [illegible] if true, under one government, virtually if not actually, for mutual interests mutual protection It is absurd to suppose that any tariff question could produce the slightest approach to war between any different sections of the country

From the Pioneer

The Fort Fairfield Murder

This tragedy, which we briefly noticed in our issue last week, was one of those strange and unaccountable occurrences which occasionally burst upon the community, like a clap of thunder from the clear sky If the maginn remains in the world had been requested to say what it supposed would happen next, he would have thought of nothing like this

Dolly, we understand is a man about forty years of age, has formerly been a seafaring man, and married his wife in the city of New Shoreham of Irish descent and a Catholic — They had lived in Fort Fairfield some four years He is a man of some education has taught the town school in one of the districts in that town for two winters, and was regarded barring his immoralities, as a good teacher He was intemperate, low and vulgar in his impulses perfectly atheistic believing in no God or moral accountability, and when stimulated with liquor quarrelsome and reckless Such we are informed by those who knew him were the predominant traits in his character We are told that on the day prev ous to his committing the deed, he was at the house of his brother in law and engaged in playing cards On the evening previous he with his wife was at the house of a neighbor where the woman was sick and not expected to live It is said he made the remark there, that probably she would not live, and he should die soon, and then the man could marry his, Dolly's wife. Nothing more was heard of them after they left this house until the next day about noon, when he was found in his barn with his throat cut, yet unable to converse and his wife dead in her bed lying upon her back killed by his hand, with a single blow of a broad axe, cutting through her breast bone and vitals and nearly severing her spine. Of course she died instantly A writing was found in the house, covering some four or five pages of foolscap, which he says was mostly written after he and his wife had returned home the previous evening, the closing lines however after he had done the fatal deed His version of the transaction is according to that paper and his oral statements, that on their way home he and his wife arranged that he should kill her, then the children and then himself That for two hours he urged upon her to kill the children but this she refused to do and insisted that he should do it Whether as says that he went to bed during the night we are not informed But at about three o'clock in the morning he went to his wife who was in the bed with axe in his hand, asked her if she was ready who answered she was but do it quickly He told her to close her eyes, which she did and he dealt the awful blow. He attempted to kill the children, (of whom there were four the eldest eight years old, and the youngest quite young lying on its mother's arm) but the heart failed him and he could not do it He then attempted to shoot himself but the charge missed his head, which he intended it should hit, and having no more powder he went to the barn where he inflicted a wound upon his throat, which however was not immediately death The children were in the house with their dead mother for nearly twelve hours there being no neighbors near before and no one knew their situation

The remarkable paper which was found will probably be given to the public after the courts shall have disposed of Dolly It is said that he is perfectly calm and cool, and does not seem to realize the enormity of the crime of which he is guilty

One thing more it is proper to add in this connection and that is, Rum did the work — He was habitually intemperate although not always drunk He purchased some spirit but a day or two before. He drank the evening before at the neighbors', and he says, that he drank twice, before he could get his courage up to his work If there had been no rum there has been no murder

AN ACT for the admission of the State of "West Virginia" into the Union and for other purposes.

Whereas the people inhabiting that portion of Virginia known as West Virginia did, by a convention assembled in the city of Wheeling on the twenty sixth of November eighteen hundred and sixty-one, frame for themselves a Constitution with a view of becoming a separate and independent State; and whereas at a general election held in the counties composing the territory aforesaid on the third day of May last, the said constitution was approved and adopted by the qualified voters of the proposed State; and whereas the Legislature of Virginia, by an act passed on the thirteenth day of May, eighteen hundred and sixty two, did give its consent to the formation of a new State within the jurisdiction of the said State of Virginia, to be known by the name of West Virginia, and to embrace the following named counties, to wit: Hancock, Brooke, Ohio, Marshall, Wetzel, Marion, Monongalia, Preston, Taylor, Tyler, Pleasants, Ritchie, Doddridge, Harrison, Wood, Jackson, Wirt, Roane, Calhoun, Gilmer, Barbour, Tucker, Lewis, Braxton, Upshur, Randolph, Mason, Putnam, Kanawha, Clay, Nicholas, Cabell, Wayne, Boone, Logan, Wyoming, Mercer, McDowell, Webster, Pocahontas, Fayette, Raleigh, Greenbrier, Monroe, Pendleton, Hardy, Hampshire, and Morgan; and whereas both the convention and the Legislature aforesaid have requested that the new State should be admitted into the Union, and the Constitution aforesaid being republican in form, Congress doth hereby consent that the said forty-eight counties may be formed into a separate and independent State. It being represented to Congress that since the Convention of the twenty-sixth of November, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, that framed and proposed the Constitution for the said State of West Virginia, the people thereof have expressed a wish to change the seventh section of the eleventh article of said Constitution by striking out the same and inserting the following in its place, viz: "The children of slaves born within the limits of this State after the fourth day of July, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, shall be free; and that all slaves within the said State who shall, at the time aforesaid, be under the age of ten years, shall be free when they arrive at the age of twenty one years; and all slaves over ten and under twenty-one years shall be free when they arrive at the age of twenty-five years; and no slave shall be permitted to come into the State for permanent residence therein:" Therefore—

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, That whenever the people of West Virginia shall, through their said Convention, and by a vote to be taken at an election to be held within the limits of the said State, at such time as the Convention may provide, make and ratify the change aforesaid, and properly certify the same under the hand of the President of the Convention, it shall be lawful for the President of the United States to issue his proclamation stating the fact, and thereupon this act shall take effect and be in force from and after sixty days from the date of said proclamation.

By such freedom of use it

HUNNEWELL'S TOLU ANODYNE!

This Preparation, by its splendid results has shown the great necessity of a true Nervous and Spasmodic Remedy, which goes to its work on all such complaints, completely relieving the pains and leaving no stain of debility behind.

As most complaints of this nature proceed from inward causes, they are reached only through the stomach and in most of them time and money is wasted by the use of Liniments and Lotions.

Let this preparation be fairly tested and it will be found worthy the name and fame of a true

ANODYNE!

IT CURES

Neuralgia,

also the chief of all causes of disease and insanity

To the Sleepless Invalid it gives the most refreshing sleep.

To Females, suffering the pains of Monthly Menstruation, it completely relieves while Nature's work is undisturbed. This is of great importance, as from this scourge dates most, if not all, wrecks to the Nervous System, and Chronic Female Complaints.

For Stomach, or Tape Worms, it is a sure remedy.

For children, when Teething, it completely soothes the pain by diluting with milk and rubbing the Gums. When very severe give it in 5 to 10 drop doses in milk, and is a perfect relief.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.

THE HOMESTEAD TONIC,

LET our possessions be what they may—marble palaces, broad lands, magnificent plate or caskets of precious stones —they all sink in the balance as against Heaven's great boon HEALTH, and they cannot be enjoyed without it. The language of nature ate to that whoever would enjoy the pleasures of [illegible] the beauties of flowers and landscapes, the joys of companionship, the richness of literature, or the honors of station and renown, must preserve their health. And yet how little is it regarded, how carelessly preserved. The stomach is the receptacle of all nourishment, and the fount from which all parts of the body derive their sustenance. When foul, it jars its fountain to the stomach, acute sympathy disorganizes all organs, and disease more or less painful must follow. The laws of nature cannot be violated with impunity. Night revelry, excessive irregularity of meals and the like will gradually destroy the [illegible] and [illegible] of the stomach. How many ladies and gentlemen eat and drink disease at late suppers, and in the morning with headache and feeling languid, more stomach fever [illegible] ted weak and incapacitated to perform either mental or physical duty, and occasionally the beginning of that horrid disease which assumes a thousand shapes, and points towards a miserable life and premature [illegible]

There can be no medical remedy that will [illegible] lead into food or poisoned drinks into their [illegible] ment, but medical science can assist nature, supply exhausted fluids, and to a great extent correct the effects of disease when the habits are abandoned.

The Medical Faculty has exhausted its research for generations in creating appetizers and overcoming stomachic derangements. Certain ingredients were well established as possessing beneficial qualities, among these were Calisaya Bark and St. Croix Rum. But still components were wanting, and regularity could not be obtained. An invalid physician sojourning in the tropical island of St. Croix observed the habits of the natives, and gathered from them the receipt for the final accomplishment of this most important end. Its component parts largely incorporated in the vegetable diet of that island produced the effect without a proper knowledge of the cause. The article was first made and used as a private medicine. Its effects were so salutary that it is now being produced and consumed in immense quantities under the name of Drake's Plantation Bitters or Old Homestead Tonic. They act with the power of a medicine and are taken by old or young with the pleasure of a beverage. The sale of these Bitters was at first confined to our extreme southern cities, but they are now becoming well known throughout the world and are recommended with the most unbounded confidence for all complaints originating from a disorganized or diseased Stomach, such as Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Nervous affections, Loss of Appetite, Intermittent Fevers, Diarrhœa, Sour Stomach, Headache, Fever and Ague, Weakness, &c.

As a morning appetizer and after dinner tonic they are held in high estimation and should be found upon the side board of every family. They are also much relied upon in the Tropics for Scrofula, Rheumatism, and Dropsy.

S—T—1860—X.

That you may be your own judge of the efficacy of these celebrated Bitters, we submit a partial formula of the articles of which they are composed. St. Croix Rum. The tonic properties of pure St Croix Rum are well known and it has long been recommended by physicians. It is manufactured from the Sugar Cane Plant and that we use is selected with great care from the estates of a few planters in the interior of that island. Calisaya, or King's Bark, was unknown to civilization until the middle of the seventeenth century. The natives of Peru are generally supposed to have been long previously acquainted with its most wonderful medicinal qualities. Humboldt makes favorable mention of the febrifuge qualities of this article as an antidote to FEVER AND AGUE. Intermittent and Malarious Fevers in his extensive South American travels.

CASCARILLA BARK is another important ingredient. It was known in Germany as early as 1790, and much used as a substitute for Peruvian Syrup. It is employed as a gentle stimulant and tonic in Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Cholic, Dysentery, and Diseases of the stomach and bowels. DANDELION is used for inflammation of the loins and spleen, in cases of bilious secretions and dropsical affections dependent on obstructions of the abdominal viscera and derangement of the digestive organs generally.—CHAMOMILE FLOWERS used for enfeebled digestion and want of appetite. WINTERGREEN is a medicinal plant of very great efficiency and is especially valuable in Scrofula, Rheumatism and Nefretic affections. LAVENDER FLOWERS an aromatic stimulant and tonic, highly invigorating in nervous debility, generous to the palate and stomach. ANISE an aromatic carminative creating flesh, muscle and milk. Much used in nursing. S—T—1860—X. Another ingredient of remarkable and wonderful virtues used in the preparation of these Bitters—is a native of Brazil and as yet unknown to the commerce of the world. A Spanish writer says "* * * * * administered with St Croix rum it never fails to relieve Nervous tremor, Wakefulness, disturbed sleep, &c., and that it is used with great effect by the Brazilian Spanish and Peruvian ladies to heighten their color and beauty. It imparts cheerfulness to the disposition, and brilliancy to the complexion." We withhold its name from the public for the present.

To the above are added Clove buds, Orange, Carraway, Coriander and Snake root. The whole is combined by a perfect chemical process, and under the immediate supervision of a skilful and scientific Pharmaceutist.

Drake's Plantation Bitters, or "Old Homestead Tonic," are put up in Patent Bottles representing a Swiss cottage and are an ornament to the side board.

Sea Sickness. Travellers by railroad or up on the inland rivers where the great change of water is such a prolific cause of incipient disease like Bilious, Intermittent, Ague and Chill Fevers, may feel a certain reliance, if they protect themselves with these Bitters. The muddy water of the Western rivers, filled with decayed vegetable and animal matter is quite sure to produce disease unless guarded by an antidote such as is found in the Plantation Bitters.

WHAT IS SAID OF THE PLANTATION BITTERS

"Philadelphia, 1st month 16th day 1862.—ESTEEMED FRIEND. Wilt thou send me another Case of thy Bitters. Nothing has proven so beneficial or agreeable to my invalid wife and myself, as the Plantation Bitters.

Thy Friend, ISAAC HOWLAND

N. B.—The secret of the immense sale of the Plantation Bitters is, their tested purity. The St Croix Rum and every article used is warranted perfectly pure.

It is the intention of the Proprietors to sustain the reputation of this article upon its merit.
